Here, as on many controverted questions, he has a judicial mind. He holds the balance even, as well as high. He has learned of the secrets of useful thought-the power of taking the other view, the view which is not only individual but independent, the view which is detached, and not the view which predilection, or the natural bent of his mind, or the infuence of his studies, might seem to impose upon

You expect, for instance, a historian to urge upon his readers the value of history. Mr. Lecky does urge it, but he also says this:

"Let me frankly express my own belief that to many readers of history the study is not only useless, but even positively misleading. An unintelligent, a superficial, a pedantic, or an in-accurate use of history is the source of very many errors in practical judgment."

The thought is pursued and developed, but this indication of it is a sufficient illustration of that quality of mind in Mr. Lecky which is one of his chief merits as a teacher. The attention of the American reader may also be invited to Mr. Lecky's exposition of the true nature of the causes which brought on the war ending in the independence of the United States. He may not he said: agree with it, nor indeed is it altogether new, but he will be struck by the lucid brevity and force of the statement, and by the grasp which the writer has of a complicated historical ques-And I will take the liberty of adding that address may be read with more profit in an elegant and attractive little volume than in the crowded type of a newspaper report. The reader may not always be aware of it, but the effect of any printed statement on his mind does, in a degree, depend not only upon the thought, but upon the print. G. W. S.

POLITICAL ODDS AND ENDS.

"MIKE" M'DONALD HIS MANAGER. THE NOTORIOUS GAMBLER IN CHARGE OF CARTER H. HARRISON'S CAMPAIGN.

Chicago, March 26 (Special) .-- All the morning news papers assert that Carter H. Harrison, who asks the apport of business men in his candidacy for the Mayoralty of Chicago, has taken as campaign manager M. C. McDonald, whom he has declared editorially to be the chief blackleg and gambler of the city. Six months ago ex-Mayor Harrison in the editorial columns of his own newspaper denounced McDonald as a "gambler and a fraud, a cheap politician, whose every instinct is scoundrelly." To-day Harrison has been forced to make terms with McDonald. Six ths ago Harrison compelled McDenald to resign from the Democratic State Central Committee. It was given out at the time that he had also given his seat in the County Central Committee. day McDonald sits in the Democratic headquarters, at . 137 Monroe-st., holding hourly consultations with his henchman, gamblers and rum-sellers in the interest of Mr. Harrison's candidacy for the Mayoralty.

It is charged that McDonald demanded that gam-bing houses should be "protected" under Harrison's Administration, if elected, and that the gates of the infamous Garfield Park should be thrown wide open during every day in the year without molestation on the part of the civic authorities. It is charged that nald has agreed in return for these pledges to raise an enormous campaign fund by compelling gamblers and keepers of "joints" to contribute liberally The fact that, one after another, these men have been ordered by letters signed by McDonald to come and see him "on important business" and that some of them object that the "business" exacts more even than open saloons and gambling flouses are worth, is taken to indicate that McDonald's contribution to the campaign fund will not be a small one.

CANDIDATES IN THE GRANITE STATE.

Boston, March 26 (Special) .- "The Journal's" Manchester (N. H.) dispatch will say to-morrow: "Although only three mouths of Governor Smith's term have ex-pired, it is predicted that General Bartlett will be of the Republican party at the next election. He lives in Manchester, and it is conceded that that city holds the key to the situation. He has been Yayor of the city and president of the State Senate. Migar J. Knowlton, also of Manchester, is being groomed by Democrats for the office of Governor. Representative Blair is a strong candidate for Senator Chandler's place, and Oliver E. Branch is to be put forward by the Democrats. The Senatorship candidates are also from Manchester, and the unique spectacle will be presented in this State of nominees of each party for the two offices of Governor and Senator halling from the same city."

REPUBLICANS HOPEFUL IN NEWARK

For the first time county and city officers will be elected in Newark and Essex County in the spring. Formerly the city officers were chosen at the charter in October, and the county officers in No vember. By a law passed by the Legislature of 1892 and Trustees of the City Home will be voted for. Elections will also be held for local ers in all the townships throughout the county. The Democrats gerrymandered the Assembly districts lect eight out of the Assemblymen elected, and changed the system of electing Freeholders and Aldermen to conform to this gerrymander. On party vote seven out of the nine wards to elect dermen in the city are Democratic. The present council stands, fourteen Republicans, fifteen Demo-crats and one renegade Republican, who has since his dection voted with the Democrats. Holding over are seven Republicans, seven Democrats and this renegade. The next council will consist of twentyfive members. The Republicans must therefore carry six wards out of the nine to get a sure majority. They are exceedingly hopeful of getting it. The present Board of Freeholders elected from the gerrymandered districts consists of eleven members elected from the districts and one Freeholder-at-large elected on a general ticket. The Director-at-Large holds over. The principal issue is the racetrack question. The Republicans have made all their nominations except in the 1st District.

A CORNER ON HAIRCLOTH IN BALTIMORE.

Baltimore, March 26 (Special).-Ever since Mrs. Cleveland expressed a preference for haircloth over crinoline, to meet the demands of fashion for a modskirt effect in the spring styles of dresses. the dressmakers of Baltimore have been countermand-ing their orders for crinoline and laying in large sup-plies of haircloth. The demand for the latter maecame so great last week that the price of haircloth advanced from 18 to 35 cents a yard. Several of the leading retail drygoods dealers got a corner in the market in this city by sending buyers out among the dealers in tailors' supplies, with instruc-tions to buy all the haircloth they could lay their hands on. The merchants who deal in tailors' goods had no suspicion at first of the new craze for hair cloth, and they accordingly supplied the demand of the drygoods dealers at the old prices. In this way the several drygoods firms were enabled to realize handsome profits by running up the prices, and the tailors will now have to pay nearly twice as much as usual for their coat-linings.

SERIOUS EFFECT OF THE CONSTANT RUSH OF IMPORTUNATE OFFICE-SEEKERS.

MR. CLEVELAND NOT LIKELY TO BE HURRIED-HIS HINT TO A DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMAN -A BATCH OF NOMINATIONS EXPECTED

TO-DAY-THE HUNGRY HORDE

"HARD-UP" [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Washington, March 26.—President Cleveland yester-day said to a Western Democratic Congressman that the office-seekers and their friends who are inclined to find fault with him because the work of putting Democrats into offices does not proceed more rapidly not appear to realize that they are themselves mainly responsible; that so much of his own time and the time of members of his Cabinet is occupied by the constant rush of applicants and their supporters that little or none remains for anything else. The Congressman took the hint and cut his business short. In conversation with a Tribune correspondent to-day me to be a reproach, although he did not speak in a reproachful tone; and I actually felt like a culprit when I saw the haggard faces of Secretaries Gresham and Carlisle, upon whom I called later in the day. But what can I do? If I go home and trust to correspondence in behalf of my friends who want offices. and whom of course I am anxious to serve, they will accuse me of lack of effort and interest; and if their applications are not successful, I shall be held re-sponsible for the failure and compelled to suffer. So long as other Congressmen remain here and besiege the White House and Departments. I must do the same thing, disagreeable as the business is to me. For my own part, I would not complain if the President should decline to see an office-seeker more than once, or a Congressman more than once, in regard to the same office, and I would not object if every head of a Department would make the same rule and ad-

It is evident to everybody who is not blinded by his own passionate interest in the distribution of the spoils that the limit of physical endurance has been nearly teached by members of the Cabinet, who are constantly beset by office-seekers and their backers. true of Secretary Carlisle, the demands upon whose time and strength made by office-seekers have been even heavier and more constant; and Secretary Lamont has been compelled to shut his door against hundreds of importunate Democratic patriots whose anxiety to serve their country does not allow them sufficient time to eat or sleep. The executive order barring office-seekers on Cabinet days was not issued an hour teo soon, for the continuance during another fortnight of the strain of the last two weeks would probably have resulted in one or two vacancies in the President's Cabinet. There is the very best reason fo believe that Mr. Cleveland will refuse to be hurried and competent men, but several things have hap- had been commander and part owner of many visable, several of the appointments that have been made would have been recalled as promptly as that of Mr. Curry, whose commission as commercial agent at Yarmouth was so speedily revoked.

The office-seekers are in a state of anxious expectancy to night, for the quidnunes have assured them that a large number of nominations will be sent to the Senate to-morrow. Many of them feel that they senate to-morrow. Many of them feel that they cannot afford to remain another week in Washington Atter they had paid the weekly bills yesterday-for the Washington hotel and boa ling house keepers, who remembered their experience of eight vears ago do not allow bills to run longer than a week-some of them receip admitted that they could not wait more than one week longer, while others declared that they would be compelled to leave Washington within the next two or three days. A majority of office-seekers seem already to have reached the boarding-house stage of their sojourn, and it is reported that the liquor-stores which are provided with "free-lunch" counters are daily becoming more p-pular.

The friends of ex-Congressman Wheeler, of Michigan, are hopeful that his nomination for Assistant Sections of the Interior will be sent to the Senate to-morrow.

A SECRET MEETING OF SWITCHMEN.

Philadelphia, March 26 .- An important meeting of United Brotherhood of Switchmen was held here mitted. The meeting was in session for two hours. BAD FOR THE RURAL VOTERS and when it adjourned information in regard to its proceedings was refused. Nevertheless a slight general idea of the business that came before the meeting was obtained. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the question of a strike upon the Pennsylvania Railroad and the roads entering Chicago during the World's Fair, or just before its opening. Delegates were present from various points along the lines of the Pennsylvania and from the local ber of letters were read, the general sentiment of which was against a strike. The feelings of the switchmen at the meeting, however, were somewhat more pronounced than those of the writers of the letters, and a strong sentiment seemed to prevail in favor of taking advantage of the coming russ of business on the railroad lines to state the men's grievences and demands, and to put pressure of some description upon the railroad companies to compel them to grant them.

JOHN JACOB ASTOR'S LATEST INVENTION.

HIS APPLICATION FOR A PATENT ON A " RAIN INDUCER" REFUSED.

John Jacob Astor has come forth with a new "rain induced," and he hopes before long to prove to the world the superiority of his theory over that of General Dyrenforth. The application of his theory of General Dyrenorth. The apparatum of the second of the pumping or carrying of warm, moist air from the surface of the earth to a high altitude, and this air, when freed, will precipitate rain. Mr. Astor applied for a patent on the invention, but the Patent Office has so far refused to grant it, asserting that "no mechanical novelty was involved." The application for a patent on another invention, a bicycle-brake, has however been granted without opposition. The intention of the inventor is not to make money, but to gratify his taste for scientific experiments.

With the application for a patent on the "min inducer," Mr. Astor sent a drawing of an air-tower erected on high ground. A blower of high power communicates with the tower by means of a large air tube. The warm, moist air is driven through this tube to the discharge-pipe.

Sald Mr. Astor: "I have never tried the 'raininducing' scheme, but it would probably work successfully. The essential principle in my application was different from that which General Dyrenforth endeavored to establish. He tried to induce rain by a series of explosions, and I followed his experiments with much interest. My method is to transfer the air directly from the earth's surface to a high level." "The Pneumatic Road Improver," another of Mr.

Astor's inventions, will be exhibited in miniature at the World's Fair. Soon after the patent was granted the inventor was offered $2,000 for it, but he refused to sell. The improver is an ingenious device for re-moving dirt from macadamized roads. An air-blast is attached to the motive power of the vehicle, and when propelled forward it removes the dust from the highway. The Colcyra, Mr. Astor's little launch, was run all last summer at an average speed of about twelve miles an hour, the motive power being a storage battery.

Mr. Astor thinks that boats with storage batteries for motive power have a great future, and that the trolley would be just the thing for use on elevated roads.

EFFECTS OF THE NEW PERSONAL REGIS-TRATION LAW.

A SCHEME OF THE MACHINE BOSSES TO PUT THE CONTROL OF THE STATE INTO THE HANDS OF CITY DEMOCRATS.

YROM THE REGULAR CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE. Albany, March 26 .- Some of the Republican newspapers of the State, through misunderstanding Mr. Ransom's Personal Registration act, have been led to say that they do not think it should be opposed. Their understanding of it is that it merely extends he Personal Registration law to incorporated villages. Were this the case there would have been no resistance to the bill by the Republican Assembly men except on the ground that the measure un-necessarily increased election expenses in the State. But the bill goes much further than this requirement of personal registration hereafter in villages to secure the right to vote. It declares that the farmers of the State who do not vote in any one year must in order to obtain the right to vote. This last provision was probably inserted in the bill by command of Governor Flower, for it will have an effect on the vote of the State in the fall of 1894, when Mr. Flower will undoubtedly be a candidate for re-election. If he can reduce the rural vote, he thinks he can be re-elected by the vote of the city Democrats. Undoubtedly a large percentage of the Republicans of the State voted for President last fall, and therefore are entitled to vote on the State election this year. But important as the next State election will be, it is an "off year," and thousands of Republican farmers will abstain from yoting. Every one of these men, if the Ransom bill becomes a law, will be compelled personally to register his name in the fall of 1894 in order to have legal authority to vote. The bill says: Bell says:

Registry list: for general elections in election districts wholly outside of cities and villages, and for special elections generally: The inspectors of election in an election district no part of which is within a city or incorporated village, at their first meeting for registry for a general election, and in a city, except New-York and Brooklyn. at their first meeting for registry for a special election of a city officer, and elsewhere than in a city at their first reception from his fellow-townsmen.

He leaves a widow, who is now prestrated with a serious illness: a daughter, Mrs. Mary McClelland, of Poughkeepsie, and two sons, John Vincent of this city and the Rev. Dr. Marvin R. Vincent, for many years paster of the Church of the Covenant in Parknames of such voters as are known or proven to the satis-faction of such inspectors to have coased to be qualified voters in such district for such election; and shall at each voters in such district for such election; and shall at each of their meetings for registry for such election, place upon such registry list the names of all persons qualified to vote at such election in such district who shall personally appear before the board at either of such meetings; but no new names not on such poll-list shall be placed on such registry list except of persons who so personally appear.

The poll list only contains the list of such persons as voted the preceding year. At present in rural districts many persons are registered "by proxy." Some neighbor who is "going to town" promices to register the farner's name and does so; or the chair-men of political committees make out a list of voters and inscribe their names upon the registration books The present law says regarding rural voters:

The inspectors shall at their first meeting for registry in an election district elsewhere than in a city place upon such list the names of all persons appearing on the poil list of the next preceding general election in such district, except the names of such voters as are proven to the satisfaction of such inspectors to have ceased to be voters after the names.

the banking business. For the last fifteen years he had been connected with the Seamen's Savings Blank. The funeral will be at the Church of the Saviour, Brook-lyn, te-morrow at 4.30 p. ns. must be a large number of voters in garat neighborto vote. The act will make it a trouble ome matter for them to do so, for they will have to make two Journeys "to town" in order to express their political Journeys "to town" in order to expense in property of the proference at the polls—ones to register their names personally and once to cast their ballots.

The Ransom act originally also gave to rural voters four days in which to register. This amended bill says that they shall have only two days, as at pres-ent. When political committees attended to this business of registration the fact that there were only two days did not have much political effect, slace the names of about all the voters in a rural election | nues, squares and places in the said city are and of right district were inscribed on the lists the first day of registration.

But now that a large proportion of them will have to register their names personally each year, if this bill passes, the small number of days of registration bill passes, the small name; of the first vote. It is far easier for a city voter than for a farmer to register his name, and yet this bill would give to the former double the opportunity of the latter. It is palpable that this is another contivance of Roswell P. Flower, William F. Sheehan, Edward Murphy, jr., and other

Albany, March 26 (Special).—The bill that will eventually close up every poolroom in the State and prevent betting on races, except on the tracks where the races are run, and on the day of the race, will undoubtedly become a law within the next week or ten days. The Senate Judiciary Committee re ported the bill favorably on Friday, and, in spite of the opposition of senator McCarren, it was made a special order on second and third reading for Wednes The Assembly Judiciary Committee did not meet to consider the bill after the joint hearing on meet to consider the bill after the foundation of the transfer of the considered at its meeting on Tuesday, and, unless there is a sudden change in sentiment toward it, it will be reported to the House not later than Wednesday morning. Should Mr. Croker continue to favor the passage of the bill nothing can stop its going to the Governor at an early date.

ONE THING THAT MIGHT BRING RAPID TRANSIT. Albany, March 26 (Special) .- "I wish that we could arrange it so that in case a rapid transit road was built in New-York City a good-sized block of the stock would be given to Richard Croker," said a New-York business man to The Tribune correspondent one day last week. "What is the reason for such a wish as that!"

was asked.
"There is every reason for it," was the reply. "If that could be done we would stand a chance of get-ting rapid transit. If we could do that a bill would go through this Legislature so quick that the State Printer would have to hastle to get it printed in time for its final reading."

This business man is not the only one who is talk-

This business man is not the only one who is this ing in this manner of Richard Croker. Even the more outspoken Tummany members are beginning to hint that if "the old man" wanted it there would be no delay in getting through legislation that would result in the building of the road. But they say that there is more money for Tammany Hall in not building the more would be if one should that there is more money for Tammany Hall in not building the road than there would be if one should be begun and completed. The Manhattan Elevated Company is rich, and it is willing to pay well for a menopery of the carrying but hess of the metropolis. Then there is the bargain that was made a year ago, and it can be said in justice to the present leader of Tammany Hall that when he makes a bargain he keeps it if he possibly can. So between selfish personal and political interests all hope of any remedial rapid transit legislation for this session is probably dead.

TO WIPE OUT LOCAL OPTION.

THE ROESCH-HENNESSY AND THE GOLDBERG BILLS AMENDING THE EXCISE LAWS.

Albany, March 26 (Special).-Two bills have b introduced in the Legislature that together are in-tended to wipe out local option entirely in the towns of the State. The liquor men, it seems, are not satisfied with the extensive privileges they secured through the passage of the Excise law last year, but desire that there shall not be a hamlet in the State that does not have its barroom.

One of these bills came from the State Liquor

by Mr. Roesch, who recently was refused admission to the Bar Association of New-York, and in the Assembly by John Hennessy, of Brooklyn, the young member who was hissed the other day when he called up the bill that was presented for the purpose of requiring the Fifth Avenue Stage Company put conductors on its stages. This bill is inten to extend the right of a writ of certiorari in excise cases to towns. Now it is limited to cities of 30, 000 inhabitants or over. The other bill was introduced by Mr. Goldberg, of Buffalo. This bill extends the provisions of the present Excise law to all villages of the State with a population of 3,000 or over. Everything is taken, even to the all-night and special licenses for balls and receptions. There are to be three Excise Commissioners for each village of this size. Morris Teknisky, the president of the State Liquor Dealers' Association, was here the most of last week, working hard to pass the bills. Mr. Tekulsky was honest enough to admit that with the passage of the Roesch-Hennessy bill local option would be a thing of the past. The country ilquor dealers want the bill passed, and this is just about the kind of Legislature that will do it.

THE ELM STREET IMPROVEMENT ACT. A FORMIDABLE BLACKMAILING WEAPON IN THE HANDS OF UNSCRUPULOUS CAM-PAIGN MANAGERS

Albany, March 26 (Special).-The Elm Street Improvement act, as revised by James A. Deering for Mayor Gilroy, and presented to the Assembly by Mr. Webster, is just as objectionable to the property-owners in New-York as its predecessors. It has had three or four predecessors the present year. The bill is misnamed "the Elm Street Improvement act," for it authorizes the city authorities of New-York to selze property and widen any street in New-York. Indeed, the words "Elm Street" are not used in this act. This being the case, the measure must be considered as the most important one now before the Legislature. Are the people of New-York willing that the rulers of Tammany Hall, the present rulers of the city, shall have the legal ...uthority to selze property in any street in New-York under pretence of widening it; or to seize property in the neighborhood of any park under a pretence of enlarging it ! It is true that the city promises to pay for the land, but enormous damage could be inflicted upon a manufacturing business, for instance, if it were compelled to remove its heavy machinery to some other building in consequence of the widening of a street or avenue or the enlargement of a park. The present rulers of Tammony Hall are not at all scrapulous about blackmailing real-estate owners now for campaign purposes; but this so-called "Elm Street Improvement act" would be a coercive law which they would wield with more tremendous effect than any other like measure that they have heretofore obtained.

Mr. Deering's bill was printed only last night by the State Printer. Property-owners will be desirous the State Printer. Property-owners will be desirous of knowing what powers it confers upon the Board of Street-Opening. Below are the chief ones:

Should the said board at any time, by a three-fourths vote of all the members thereof, deem it for the public interest that the title to the lands and premises required for any street, avenue, road, public park, square or place heretofors or hereafter inil our, widened, altered, extended the property by the Mayor. or otherwise improved, should be acquired by the Mayor.

Aldermen and commonaity of the city of New-York at a fixed or specified time, the said board may direct, where nxed or specified time, the said board may direct, where no buildings are upon such lands, that upon the date of the filing of the oath of the Commissioners of Extinate and Assessment as hereinbefore provided, and where there are buildings upon such lands, that upon a day not less than six months from the date of the filing of such oath, the title to any piece or parcel of land lying within the lines title to any piece or parcel of land lying within the iness of any such street, avenue, road, public square, park or place shall be vested in the Mayor, Aldermen and commonelty of the city of New-York, and thereafter when the said commissioners shall have taken and filed said oash, the Mayor, Aldermen and commonalty of the city of New-York shall, upon the date of such filing where no buildings are upon such lands unto the date specified by said board asare upon such lands and where there are buildings upon such lands, upon the date specified by said board as aforesaid, become and be seized in fee of the said lands, tenements and hereditaments in the said resolution mea-tioned that shall or may be so required for the purpose of opening, widening, altering, extending or otherwise im-proving the said street, avenue, road, public square, park park, square or place, as the case may be, the same to be appropriated, converted and used to and for such purpose accordingly, and thereupon the sail Mayor. Ald-rmen and commonalty of the city of New-York, or any person or persons acting under their authority or under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works, may immediately or at any time or times thereafter take possession of the same, or any part or parts thereof, without any suit or proceeding at law for the purpose. In trust, nevertheless, that the same be appropriated and kept open for and as part of a public street, avenue, square, park or place as part of a public street, avenue, square, park or place forever in like manner as the other public streets, ave-

The incorporators and principal stockholders are: C. Asa Francis, Edward Hughes, Howard Green, Harry W. Green, Charles E. Clark, John D. Ivins and Alfred II. THE B. AND O. NOT LIKELY TO SUFFER. Paltimore, March 26 (Special).-The sudden decline in Baltimore and Ohio Railroad stock here last week, coming so soon after the consolidation of the Ohio and Mississippi and the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern comparties and their amalgamation with the liaitimore and Oldo Company, has caused no little talk in rallroad and financial circles. There were rumors that the so-called Baltimore and Ohlo pool, which purchased the $5,000,000 of treasury stock, had been liquidated; that the dividend on Baltimore and Ohio would be reduced, and that the indorsement of the Baltimore and Ohio Company of the new obligations of the Ohio and Mississippi and the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern was considered prejudicial to the interests of the Baltimore and Ohlo stockholders. Hambieton & Co., bankers, of this city, say that while they know nothing about the Baltimore and Ohio pool, they believe the regthe Baltimore and Ohio peol, toey beneve the reg-ular dividend will be paid, and they are confident that the entire arrangement is advantageous to the Baltimore and Ohio Company. The Hambletons and the Baltimore and Ohio people attach no signifi-cance to the temporary decline last week. The an-nouncement is also made that a large majority of security-holders in the Baltimore and Crio South-western have already assented to the plan of con-solidation, and that the carrying out of the agree-ment is assured.

OPPOSING DR. RAINSFORD'S IDEA.

The Rev. Dr. John A. B. Wilson preached to a rowded congregation last night in the Eighteenth Street Methodist Episcopal Church against Dr. Rainsford's project of church saloons. He took for his text: Jeremiah, v 30, 31. The preacher was unspairing in his condemnation of Dr. Rainsford's idea. He said in part: "There is no good trying inoculation. Abraham Lincoln did not try it thirty odd years ago, when at the mandate of the Nation it was determined to wipe out slavery. To-day there must be no half measures to wipe out intemperance. The liquor business, as it is carried on to-day, must be wiped out, for every night its tentacles enter 10,000 homes and drown in scalding tears the smile on the face of innocent childhood, tear the rose from the cheek of women and plack the whitened lock from the head of age. The sanctified saloon and tartender are an atter mistake and an impossibility." The preacher was certain that victory for the temperance people was not so far distant.
